About This Content

While we know that everyone does love a bit of bling, this pack is for those of you who want to go camo! But not just ANY camo. Of course we have some good, solid mil-grade digi-camo for a couple of weapons, we want to introduce you to our latest invention: blood camo ("splatter" camo to our friends). While the digi-camo shows your understanding of fieldcraft and your love of all things military, we felt that the zombie apocalypse needed camo designed to confuse Zeds, not people. Hence blood camo. Hide your weapons - and yourself - with blood splatters!

And the weapons are:

M4 in digi-camo for the Commando

M32 in digi-camo for the Demolitions people

MP5 in blood camo for the Medic (appropriate, huh?)

Shotgun in blood camo for Support Specialists

Now you're thinking with portals. Sisyphus Reborn is free to play for everyone, those who liked it can afterwards buy for not even a buck this mini-DLC to support the developer and also get some additional content.

In times where microtransactions are pretty much a necessity in full-price AAA games, this is just the most fair and honest way to finance a game i've seen by now.

A game? What am i talking? This might be interactive media, but is far from being "played", it is experienced.. 5,000 achievements in less than 2 minutes. Very nice.. I don't get it..... A must own if you have a Vive. Works great with a Steam Controller too.

10/10 would stare into the sun to this glorious soundtrack again!. As for a fallout1&2 fan, this game is surprisingly interesting. I have fond memories of being thrown around on these iconic trains. All the distinctive noises- the "tish" of the doors, the Gresley Bogies and the "digga, digga, digga, digga" of the compressors made these trains special.

And absolutely none of these distinctive noises are captured on this add on pack. The train as supplied is virtually silent and fails to capture the character of these trains. It looks great, but sounds terrible.

Once you get the Armstrong Powerhouse Sound Pack installed however it changes and the train is absolutely superb. But you shouldn't have to pay $37.99 to buy this Add-on from Steam and then pay $34.99 to Armstrong Powerhouse to make this train actually any good. Poor show Dovetail, poor show.. Would not recommend this game for $60. Took me about 10 hours to complete the main story which seemed like it consisted of only 8 quests or so. My playtime is where it's at because I left it on overnight. There's still a lot of SIDE stuff to do but it's all tedious and boring. Map is pretty small and empty. Copy/paste buildings and no inside areas to explore besides story quest areas. Never died playing through it on Hard difficulty either. I just can't tell someone this is worth it at the current price.. Amazing game. Great creepy atmosphere? Check. Sense of wonder and wanting to explore every nook? Check. Creepy "bro" showing up right as you think you're safe and trying to rip your lungs out through your♥♥♥♥♥ Check. Also, the developers are keeping up with very frequent small patches to address small issues players have been having and being quite swift at it, which IMHO is awesome. It does have a VERY Amnesia TDD feel, and that alone drives me forward, albeit quaking in my boots. Great job guys! Only thing i would change is maybe more frequent and forgiving auto saves (Which the dev told me is int he works based on my forum feedback. So, yeah, GREAT team!)

Update : Just finished it and i gotta say, im already going nuts waiting for episode 2!! I mean, I do like this game! But theres not much.. I just wish there were some more elaborate puzzles and it was a little longer. But otherwise great game and please come out with some more escapes.

. How they got that trailer I am not sure. My time playing this was not fun. even for 5 bucks. No one on the server so had to play against AI, The AI was not good. the "kill streak" messages were very annoying and loud and I some how got first blood 5 times. With games like Ravenfield on the market for triple the price but well worth it. They need to step up their game in order to compete. I cannot recommend in current state. Will check back in possibly at a later date. Until then. Get Ravenfield.

Edit 1 : ALSO, grenades hit you through about anything. so Dont use them if you decide to check the game out for yourself.. Loved the original, and jumped to get it on Steam when I heard about the Extended Edition. Great, well delivered story. And I love the whole aesthetic, the menus and UI are so nice.. Enjoyable game. Pretty good for an RTS, but it has some hair-ripping problems. 7/10. Over all I believe that this is an amazing game. the story is difficult just the way the first one was :). there is a bit of lag but is probably my computer. the multiplayer is fun and an entire thrill. But overall I would say it's a great sequel and an amazing gameplay.. Hate to buck the trend, but for me, this is a very simple unity game using default assets that has a difficulty level that makes it unbearable (for me).

I'm a big retro 80's 90's game fan, before we had saves etc - but this offers little reward for progression other than a change of colours and beat.

If you like twitch reaction games that end in a single mistake, which often feels unavoidable - then this may well be for you. Despite its very simplistic graphics and controls, it does seem quite well polished.

Got it as a gift, but not one I'll be coming back to - straight into the "too Hard" category, along with BarrierX (which you may like; if you are reading this through rage!). Good game

10 heckermens out of 10. I do like the smoother graphics in the sequel, but the controlling is a lot harder. Everything else is pretty much the same (except for the music, which is still all good). The first Neon Space is better, but I'll still reccomend this anyway.. Excellent racing, one of the best races in this form, nice picture, convenient gameplay, good music and sounds, convenient control! (the most important thing in such games)

I really liked it, for its price it was one of the best games in its genre.

Great race in the retro style, I advise everyone)
